

Table 1: Training and Educational Projects of WHITRAP (Shanghai), 2008-2009

Training
Theme	Contents	Date	Participants	Level	Category
The first session of international training course on 'Management Planning for Cultural Heritage'	Providing practical knowledge of the principles, methodology, analysis, and procedures for preparing appropriate management plans through lectures, case studies, and interactive teaching methods	November 24 to December 5, 2008	19 professionals with rich experience in local heritage management from 19 Asia-Pacific countries	International training	Fixed topic
Workshop on 'Restoration Technology in Modern Historic Buildings: Sino-Dutch Theory, Process and Practice'	Focusing on restoration techniques for modern masonry buildings, and illustrating in detail techniques, methods, and recent progress in protection and restoration techniques	June 4 to 5, 2009	35 Chinese restoration professionals	Domestic training	Serial topics
Training course on 'Conservation Plan of Urban Cultural Heritage'	Working towards a better understanding of the goals of conservation plans, recognizing the framework of conservation plans and relevant legal documents, and enhancing the ability to prepare conservation plans as well as to successfully navigate the approval process and implement the plans	June 14 to 26, 2009	Technical officers from administrative departments in historic cities/towns and World Heritage Sites	Domestic training	Fixed topics
Education
Title	Detail	Date	Place
International degree program	Establishing Master and PhD Degrees in heritage conservation	2008 - ongoing	Tongji University
International Master's Degree program 'World Heritage at Work'	Presentation of lectures by Prof. Zhou Jian to students at the University of Turin	August 2008	University of Turin, Italy
'2008 Exhibition Tour of World Heritage Sites in China'	Popularizing knowledge of World Heritage to teenagers	June 2008	Jing'an District, Shanghai
Internship	5 interns	March 2008 - ongoing	WHITRAP (Shanghai)

"Planning of the suburbs' landscapes: enhancements of the surroundings, interfaces of territories, and viable development strategies"	UNESCO Chair in Landscape and Environmental Design	November 2008	Jinze, Shanghai
---	--	---------------	-----------------